PLEASE READ: All of the fine and performing arts and elective courses on the reverse are half-credit, meeting either four times a week for one semester or two times a week for the entire year. Semester classes are marked with an S. Please keep in mind when making your selections that it is often impossible to accommodate a mix of semester and year-long half-credit courses (even with study halls; see the study hall policy below).

STUDY HALL

The official study hall policy, as explained in the Curriculum Guide, states that students are limited to four study hall periods per week. This means that, during a semester, a student can have one period that is always study hall, or two periods that alternate study hall with a course. It is against this policy for a student to have one year-long every-other-day study hall along with one semester-long every-day study hall, as this leads to too many study hall periods per week during one semester.
